

GRASSROOTS

Grassroots projects, for teachers and students!

What are Grassroots?

Grassroots are small-scale, accessible ICT projects, from which the results immediately can be implemented in education. During the last few years, more than 200 teachers and students at the UvA have conducted a Grassroots project.

Grassroots are a great example of introducing and testing new techniques in education.

Grassroots projects 2014-2015

During the academic year 2014/15 the Education Expertise Group offers students and teachers the possibility to execute Grassroots projects. Enrollment starts now.

Individual teachers and students can submit a proposal for Grassroots projects. For each Grassroot the budget is no more than €1000,-

Besides individual Grassroots projects, departments can request financial aid for a program of 5-10 combined Grassroots.

More information can be found on the Grassroots website: uva.nl/grassroots

How to apply for Grassroots projects?

If you have ideas how to improve education via ICT, this is your chance! Fill in the form at the Grassroots website and submit your application before September 2nd 2014.

More information

Jeannet Bierling: jeannet.bierling@uva.nl; 525 2177

Sijo Dijkstra: sijo.dijkstra@uva.nl; 525 5315

Schedule

- 02-9-2014 Deadline for submitting application formats (12.00)
- 17-9-2014 Assessment of applications by a selection committee
- 18-9-2014 Participants will be notified, formal start date of the Grassroots
- 25-9-2014 Start meeting of the Grassroots (15.00)

Faculty of Science lecturers and students are most welcome to contact ICTO-FNWI for support/feedback on Grassroots project proposal and for any possible collaboration with other proposals and future collaborations between the grassroots projects. E-mail: icto-fnwi@uva.nl or call: 525 7986 (Natasa Brouwer, coordinator ICTO-FNWI).

